

muteflow

The silent build team for AI agencies.

Brand Foundation

What muteflow is muteflow is the technical fulfilment team behind AI agencies who close faster than they can ship. We build the automations, voice agents, and AI workflows our clients' clients bought — under their brand, inside their timelines, without their clients ever knowing we exist.

The brand promise

We build it. You take the credit.

Core brand attributes

ATTRIBUTE	MEANING IN PRACTICE
Silent	We never appear on client calls, client emails, or client-facing deliverables. Every asset we ship is unbranded to us.
Technical	We speak the language of engineers, not marketers. Named tools, named capabilities, named outcomes.
Invisible	Our value is proportional to how unknown we are. We measure success by how little our clients' clients know about us.
Continuous	Automations, workflows, and systems that don't break at 3am. muteflow is infrastructure, not a service call.
Non-competitive	We have never taken a client-facing AAA engagement. We never will.

Logo System

Primary wordmark on void background (#0A0A0B) — the default brand lockup.

Symbolism

The lowercase setting performs the brand's core promise. Uppercase shouts. CamelCase waves for attention. Lowercase simply works.

The unbroken wordmark — 'mute' and 'flow' merging with no visible seam — reflects how muteflow integrates invisibly into a client agency's operations. No handoff seam is ever visible to the end client.

The flow bar is a literal current. It runs beneath the wordmark the way muteflow's engineering runs beneath an agency's brand.

The signal dot is the smallest possible proof of life: the system is running, everything is fine, you can stop thinking about it. Exactly what a scared agency owner needs to feel.

Logo variants

VARIANT	BACKGROUND	USE CASE
Primary (dark)	#0A0A0B / dark	Default. Website, social, decks, email signatures.
Light	#FFFFFF / light	Print collateral, invoices, white-background presentations.
Monochrome	Transparent / any	Single-colour: embossing, stamps, embroidery.

Logo Specifications

Clear space rule

Minimum clear space around the wordmark equals the x-height of the lowercase letters (the height of the "u" or "o"). No text, imagery, or interface chrome may sit within this invisible margin.

Minimum size

MEDIUM	MINIMUM WIDTH
Digital screen	88px
Print	24mm
Favicon version only	16px

What NOT to do with the logo

The brand integrity rules below are non-negotiable. Any violation weakens the silent-operator positioning.

X DON'T	WHY IT BREAKS THE BRAND
Capitalise any letter	Uppercase shouts. The entire brand is named after silence.
Add an icon or mascot	The wordmark is the mark. Adding anything dilutes it.
Rotate or tilt	muteflow is steady, horizontal, structural. Never tilted.
Apply shadows / glows / bevels	Every effect added is a piece of trust removed.
Recolour outside the palette	Exactly two acceptable fills: #F4F4F5 or #0A0A0B.
Change font or letter-spacing	The wordmark is not type. It's a locked asset.

Colour Palette

Primary palette

The primary palette is designed for dark-mode dominance. Every colour earns its role.

TOKEN	HEX	RGB	CMYK	ROLE
Void	#0A0A0B	10, 10, 11	91,90,86,77	Primary background
Elevated	#111113	17, 17, 19	89,88,83,75	Cards, nav, surfaces
Border Quiet	#1F1F23	31, 31, 35	85,83,69,60	Dividers, borders
Signal	#C4F547	196, 245, 71	32,0,92,0	Primary CTA (accent)

Secondary palette

TOKEN	HEX	RGB	CMYK	ROLE
Text Primary	#F4F4F5	244, 244, 245	0,0,0,4	Headlines, body copy
Text Muted	#A8A8B3	168, 168, 179	6,6,0,30	Subtext, descriptions
Text Quiet	#8A8A93	138, 138, 147	6,6,0,42	Captions, eyebrows
Text Ghost	#6A6A73	106, 106, 115	8,8,0,55	Metadata, deep bg copy

Neuromarketing reasoning

Void (#0A0A0B) is not pure black. The 1.5% warm bias reads as intentional and engineered rather than cheap or OLED-default.

Signal Lime (#C4F547) was chosen over the industry-default blue or purple. It carries three psychological associations that matter for this buyer: active systems (terminal green, monitoring 'online') indicators), unmissable contrast (14:1 ratio against void), and category differentiation (zero other AAAs use lime).

Deploy signal lime a maximum of three times per page. Scarcity is what makes the colour work.

Typography

Type system

muteflow uses a deliberately narrow type system. Fewer fonts means tighter brand memory.

ROLE	FONT	WEIGHTS	REASON
Display / Headlines	Inter Display	700, 800	Standard for premium B2B tech in 2026.
Body / Paragraph	Inter	400, 500	Peerless legibility at 15–18px.
Monospace / Technical	JetBrains Mono	500	Signals built by engineers.

Why Inter and not something distinctive?

Our buyer — the AAA owner — spends their working life inside tools set in Inter. Linear, Vercel, Notion, GitHub, Raycast, Stripe, Supabase, OpenAI, Anthropic. Inter is not "generic" to this audience; it is the familiar. Our brand differentiation comes from composition, colour, and voice — not from forcing a quirky display face.

Type scale (desktop)

LEVEL	SIZE	LINE HEIGHT	TRACKING	WEIGHT
H1	72px	1.05	-0.045em	700
H2	48px	1.10	-0.035em	700
H3	24px	1.30	-0.02em	600
Body Large	19px	1.55	0em	400
Body	17px	1.55	0em	400
Small	14px	1.50	0em	400

Voice & Tone

Voice principles

The voice of muteflow is authoritative, direct, and quietly confident — the voice of a senior engineer who respects your time. Think less "brand copywriter" and more "the technical lead in your Slack workspace who always has the right answer."

The five voice rules

01. Declarative, not aspirational.

Say what we do, not what we believe in. "We build under your brand" — not "We believe in empowering agencies to scale."

02. Short sentences. Shorter paragraphs.

Technical founders skim. Every paragraph is one idea, maximum three sentences.

03. Named over abstract.

"ElevenLabs · Vapi · Retell · Twilio" beats "industry-leading voice platforms" every time.

04. Silence is the flex.

Don't claim expertise — demonstrate it through specificity. Don't advertise clients — refuse to name them.

05. Earned humour only.

Occasional dry wit is on-brand. Never jokes, never puns, never emojis in marketing copy.

Voice in practice

✗ WRONG TONE

We empower AI agencies to unlock scalable fulfilment solutions.

✓ MUTEFLOW VOICE

We build the systems your agency sold. Under your brand. On your timeline.

Our passionate team of experts is ready to partner with you on your AI journey.

Scope a build. We'll confirm scope, stack, and timeline within one business day.

Welcome to muteflow — your trusted partner in digital transformation!

muteflow is the technical fulfilment team behind AI agencies.

Words we never use

X AVOID	✓ USE INSTEAD
Partner / partnership	Build team / fulfilment team
Solution	Build / system / named tool
Revolutionary / cutting-edge	Specific metric or named capability
Empower / unlock / unleash	Build / ship / deliver
Synergy / leverage / ecosystem	Use plain English
Passionate about	Cut the sentence
World-class / best-in-class	Let the work speak

Iconography & Imagery

The photography rule

muteflow does not use stock photography. Ever.

No laptops on marble desks. No diverse smiling teams in meeting rooms. No fibre-optic cable close-ups. No abstract 3D renders with blue gradient blobs. The moment stock enters the brand, the silent-operator premium positioning collapses.

What we use instead

01. Typography as imagery.

The site is 90% composed of text, spacing, and colour. Large headlines act as the visual feature of the page.

02. Technical artefacts, rendered in-brand.

Scenario screenshots from Make.com styled to our palette. Code snippets in JetBrains Mono. Architecture diagrams drawn in monoline SVG. Terminal output mock-ups with the signal lime cursor.

03. Abstract atmospheric elements.

Subtle animated gradient meshes ($\leq 6\%$ opacity). Thin 1px borders in Border Quiet. Grain overlay at 3% opacity for tactile warmth.

Icon library: Lucide

Stroke-based, monoline, consistent with Linear and Vercel. Stroke weight: 1.5px, always. Colour: Text Muted (#A8A8B3) by default. Signal Lime only for primary CTAs.

What NOT to use for iconography

-
- Emoji in any marketing context (acceptable in internal Slack only)
 - Gradient-filled icons
 - Isometric illustrations (Corporate Memphis and descendants)
 - Robots, brains, lightbulbs, rockets, checkmark-in-a-shield

Applying the Brand

Email signature

—

Bilal
muteflow
bilal@muteflow.io
muteflow.io

Set in Inter at 14px. No banner image, no social links. The signature is the signal.

Social avatar

Use the favicon (#0A0A0B tile, lime "m", 48px rounded corners) at any platform requiring a square. Never use the full wordmark — it becomes illegible below 88px.

Document headers (proposals, SOWs, invoices)

Wordmark top-left at 180px width. Document type top-right in JetBrains Mono uppercase (e.g. SCOPE OF WORK or INVOICE #0042). Hairline rule in Border Quiet across the page beneath.

Version History

v1.0 — April 2026. Initial brand identity established. Logo system, colour palette, typography, voice, and imagery guidelines locked.

This guide is maintained by the muteflow team. For clarifications, contact bilal@muteflow.io.